

Getting here is easy...

Ireland makes things easy. Located on the edge of Europe and less than six hours from the east coast of the United States, we're easy to get to, easy-going, and most importantly, easy to do business with. Only two hours from many mainland Europe capitals and 50 minutes from London, access to Ireland is simple from most parts of the world.

Over 189 US flights, 1,368 EU flights and 1,159 UK flights arrive into Ireland every week, with Dublin, Shannon, Cork, Kerry and Belfast Airports always ready to cater for international visitors. As the only country in Europe to offer US Customs and Immigration pre-clearance prior to departure, travelling back across the Atlantic from Ireland couldn't be more convenient.
